

AUTOMOBILES IN FUNERAL CORTAGE

In the funeral of Mr. Frank Percy Hutchings which was held yesterday afternoon at the Sixth Ward meeting house with interment at the Ogden City cemetery, an unique innovation was the exclusive use of automobiles in the funeral cortege. The entire line of cortege from the house to the last of the thirty-five vehicles following, was composed of automobiles, something, up to this time, unknown in any section of this state.

The hearse was arranged by the Larkin Undertaking establishment, the grey machine of that firm being draped in silk of the same color, and grey silk drappings and cords and presenting an impressive appearance as it wound its way through the city streets, following by some twenty-five machines each laden with its burden of mourners.

Mr. Hutchings, who was accidentally shot on Friday last by the unexpected discharge of a shot gun, and who subsequently died from the consequent loss of blood, was buried from the Sixth ward meeting house, with Bishop Henry W. Gwilliam conducting the services.

There was a programme of music at the service, including a solo by Mrs. Marion Clark, "Calvary," a solo by William Pickett, "The Holy City," after which the choir rendered two selections, "Nearer My God to Thee" and "Scatter Seeds of Kindness."

The speakers were Judge J. A. Howell, Prof. C. J. Jensen, President T. Samuel Browning, of the Ogden City council, and E. A. Larkin. Beautiful tributes of friendship and esteem for the deceased were paid by each of those who spoke, referring especially to the happy disposition, and smiling manners of the departed one.

In his home life Mr. Hutchings instilled that true spirit of love so rarely found, and in his dealings with friends and acquaintances he was always regarded as one worthy of high respect. Words of comfort and hope in the life beyond the graves were added by the speakers.

The floral tributes were numerous and very beautiful. The grave in the city cemetery was dedicated by C. Angus Wright.

DECISION IN THE GAMBLING CASES

In the police court Saturday afternoon Judge J. D. Murphy handed down his decision in the cases against J. G. Watts and Richard Tyree, in which they were charged with conducting the turf gambling house, and which cases have occupied the attention of the police court for the three days previous. The decision holds Tyree guilty, and Watts not guilty, and releasing the latter.

The decision hinged on the signer of the lease for the second floor of the turf building. The ground floor is occupied by a saloon, run by Watts, while the second floor is used for the running of a gambling hall. The court held that the evidence showed that Watts held the lease only on the ground floor and that the contract for the rental of the upper story was in Tyree's name.

The prosecution is the outcome of the recent crusade of the Betterment League, with Rev. N. S. Elderkin as leader. The clergyman undertook to prove his assertions that there is gambling in Ogden, and that the halls of chance are running wide open, and that any one may enter and play. He testified that he saw gambling in the turf rooms; saw the actual exchange

Invigorating and Pure

The flavor of a genuine, pure, strong extract of the vanilla bean is invigorating and appetizing. It is a flavor as rich as honey, and one that lingers in the palate indefinitely. No cake or dessert is perfect without the rich, soft taste of Vanilla, and no extract will give so much of this flavor at so little cost as Van Duzer's guaranteed pure Vanilla. It is one of the strongest extracts made—"one bottle is equal to two of the ordinary kinds." If you will use it you will be surprised at the result.

FARMER'S HORSE AND RIG STOLEN

Henry Burns, of Utah, drove into town yesterday in his buggy with a male companion, hitched his outfit in front of one of the pool halls on Twenty-fifth street and proceeded to enjoy himself. He played the game until weary of the horses, and started for the street and the buggy to hunt something more diverting, but the buggy was not to be seen.

Up until late last night Mr. Burns was still on the lookout for the buggy and horse, with the unpleasant prospect of walking back to his home town. Whether the buggy was stolen or strayed is a mystery, but the circumstances would point to the former theory.

Mr. Burns says his horse was a large bay mare, black harness and a black covered buggy with a red running gear. He would appreciate its return.

LARGEST APPLE CROP IN WORLD

Apple-growers in the Pacific or box group, taking in Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana, California, New Mexico, Utah and Colorado, will this year have the largest crop ever harvested in these states and the fruit promises to be of exceptionally good quality, according to a report on the condition of the yield in the United States and Canada, received from C. P. Rothwell, secretary of the International Apple Shippers' association. The report says in part:

"The Pacific group shows a decline in, but one important state—Colorado. There are heavy increases in Washington and Oregon, and heavy increases in the less important states of Idaho and Utah. The important state of California shows a moderate increase of 15 per cent, and for the whole group an increase of 50 per cent over a year ago is promised."

The output of Washington and Idaho will be 200 per cent better than 1909, Mr. Rothwell says, while Oregon's crop will be 175 per cent above last year. Montana and New Mexico are 10 per cent under a year ago; Utah, 100 per cent better; California, 15 per cent increase, and Colorado, 30 per cent less than in 1909.

"In accordance with the practice of our association for several years, Mr. Rothwell explains, 'we make last year's crop in each state the basis for this year's estimate, increasing or diminishing the percentage as the crop is correspondingly lighter or heavier. For illustration: If a given state is rated at 80 per cent, it means the crop this year is equal to four-fifths of the crop of a year ago, or if rated at 200 per cent, the crop of such state is just twice as large as a year ago."

Appended is the crop estimate, with percentage of yield, as compared with 1909:

UTAH SPANISH WAR VETERANS AT DENVER

The Utah delegates to the annual encampment of the United Spanish War Veterans which will be held at Denver August 29, 30 and 31 left Ogden Saturday night over the Denver & Rio Grande for the convention. At the depot they were joined by the delegates from California, Washington, Nevada and Oregon.

The E. A. Wedgewood camp No. 1 of the city sent A. N. Jarvis as their delegate. Three delegates were sent from the Fitzgerald Camp at Fort Douglas and G. W. McCreery and Geo. Wardlaw represented the Ogden camp. Besides the delegates sent from the different divisions a large number of the other members of the organization left with the party.

TWENTY-ONE DAYS RACE MEET HERE

Richard Dwyer, the California horseman, has leased the half-mile track at the Fair grounds, and will open a twenty-one day meeting there commencing September 23, the first week running in conjunction with the Four State Fair.

The racing will be of the same first class order that prevailed at the last meet here, and the animals engaged for the running will include several of the strings of famous owners now racing in Montana, and elsewhere.

During the Four State Fair, the usual six races a day will most likely be run, owing to the fact that the customary harness races will either be abandoned or forced to the background by the city limits.

The leasing of the Ogden track follows the action of the Utah Jockey Club in calling off its announced thirty-day fall meeting at the Buena Vista track at Salt Lake City. This meeting was made impossible when the city council there passed an ordinance prohibiting pool selling and bookmaking within the city limits.

It is not known as yet positively whether a book or books, will be open on the Ogden meet or not, but it is safe to predict that conditions in the ring below the grandstand will be conducted pretty much as they were at previous meetings here.

AGED MAN FACES A SERIOUS CHARGE

A sixty-year-old man was arrested late Saturday, caught in the act of attempting to cash what was declared to be a forged or worthless check. He gave his name and occupation as C. P. Howard, laborer, and in endeavoring to pass the alleged money paper, told a story of having been a resident of Ogden since his early days, and referred the merchant with whom he was making a trade, to several old timers who long since have passed away.

The man was doing Twenty-fifth street with his "bank account," and presented a small check to a merchant for some goods purchased. The merchant was skeptical as to its worth and telephoned the bank officials for information as to Howard's standing. He was told that his customer's standing was a mystery to them, and was about to notify the police department when Officer C. C. Brown happened in, taking charge of the aged man.

When searched at the station several checks of small denominations, aggregating not more than $110, were found, and it is under the impression that the old fellow had outlined a campaign against the merchants of the city, trusting, it is supposed, to getting away with his haul before banking time on Monday morning.

BLACK BEAR IS A KODAK FIEND

Somewhere in the wilds of the Yellowstone National forest a big black bear is roaming about in the guise of an amateur kodak fiend. He is described as wearing one leg ear and likely have an up-to-date pocket kodak hanging over his shoulder. Any one who may be chance be importuned by Bruin to sit for a picture is advised to keep well without the focusing limit, in fact, a snapshot of the posing one at "full speed to windward" would probably prove more satisfactory in the long run.

The Buffalo River country has long been noted for its fertility as a source of blood-curdling bear stories, but not until the return yesterday of Tom Hutchinson and Amos Whittemore from the Stowe camp on Buffalo river has there been related one which did not need the proverbial "grain of salt."

Hutchinson and A. Whittemore and family returned yesterday from the region mentioned where they have been spending several weeks at the Edgar Stowe camp, twenty-five miles from Yellowstone Park near Island Park. In this same neighborhood Tom Fitzgerald has also been ranching.

Both camps have been repeatedly visited by bears and, although none of the campers succeeded in getting a shot at the marauders they have come upon them unexpectedly at all times of the day and night.

One evening last week the entire party left camp for a short while to inspect some object of interest and on their return they observed that the main tent had an occupant as evidenced by the shaking of the poles and an occasional upheaval of the canvas. Before they could approach nearer a big black bear appeared in the doorway and commenced examining a camera which swung conveniently from a tent pole.

In his efforts to secure the camera the bear succeeded in getting his head and one forepaw through the strap and as he lunged forward the pole straightened and away went Bruin into the "tall and uncut," frightened out of his wits, and vainly endeavoring to divest himself of his photographic equipment.

The male members of the party followed the trail for some distance, gun in hand, but the darkness prevented them from sighting the bear and he made good his escape. "Hutch" is reckoning up the cost of one camera.

LOVER OF HORSE RACING DIES A MILLIONAIRE.

New York, Aug. 28.—Washington H. Bourbaine, 70 years old and well-known among followers of horse racing, is dead at his home here of heart failure. The blow given to the racing game by the anti-betting laws, which had been a great disappointment to the aged man, was held largely responsible by his friends for the long illness which preceded his death.

Bourbaine made fortune from the program privileges of the Metropolitan tracks and died a millionaire.

STATE BOARD OF HEALTH'S REPORT

The Utah State Board of Health has issued its bulletin of contagious disease and deaths for the month of July, 1910.

In Weber county the total number of deaths from all causes numbered 24, and three districts in the county showing no contagion. There was three districts reporting no deaths, and ten districts that contributed to the total of mortality.

Typhoid fever claimed two victims, while one each was attributed to scarlet fever and diphtheria. Other deaths were caused by natural or accidental causes. Cases of contagious disease numbered 44, with scarlet fever leading the list with 24. Smallpox cases numbered 7; diphtheria 5; typhoid fever 7, and measles 1.

In Wayne county two districts reported no deaths, and one district reported one death from contagious disease. The two deaths in the bulletin were from natural causes, and the table of contagion statistics show Wayne to be entirely free.

The totals for the state show: 294 deaths from all causes, 16 deaths not reported from previous month, 112 districts reporting no deaths, 17 as to contagious and diphtheria reporting, and 96 localities free from contagion.

The most epidemic of the dreaded sicknesses were: Scarlet fever, 128 cases, 3 deaths; typhoid fever, 82 cases, 13 deaths; whooping cough, 64 cases, chicken pox, 38 cases, and diphtheria, 21 cases, and 5 deaths.

AT THE THEATRES

THE ORPHEUM.

"A tear, a smile, a laugh. Come drive away your cares, For joy an evening bath At the Orpheum."

The above appears on the front cover of the Orpheum program. Whether Joe Goss, Bob Spahn, or Martin Beck wrote it, it matters not. There is a world of truth in those four lines as every person of that large first-night audience would readily testify. They certainly enjoyed that most entertaining show last night. There is not a dull moment in the entire bill. The acts are all good. They are the kind which appeal to the children of all ages.

Lolo Fuller's beautiful dancing spectacle, "The Ballet of Light" is a novelty in itself. The dances are executed by eight girls with ease and grace which appeals to the most blasé.

The lighting and color effects are perfect in every detail. In the three parts there are about twenty different dances introduced. The act is under the personal direction of Miss Lolo Fuller who is assisted by Miss Dicie Bruno, Dorothy Harkis, Miss Leoni Bruno, Miss Violate Hayes, Miss Shelagh Courtney, Miss Lillian Coleman, Miss Audrey Keely and Miss Dyle Carl.

Captain Maximilian Gruber's equestrian review is as entertaining as well as instructive. The star of that act is "Minnie" an elephant, weighing 600 pounds and with a disposition like that of a pet dog. "Minnie" is not as clumsy as other members of her tribe and she seems to use human intelligence in performing her tricks. A large riding horse and a Shetland pony are also used by Captain Gruber and his assistant. At the conclusion of the act "Minnie" takes the audience of the stage and bows gracefully to the audience at each curtain call and eagerly grabs a "bouquet" of carrots that are thrown from the orchestra.

Aubrey Pringle and George Whiting, two clever entertainers, were one of the hits of the evening. They have no act other than one of singing and talking. They can do this in a manner that takes well with an audience.

Marion Murray & company presented a highly entertaining sketch, entitled "The Prima Donna's Honey-moon." It is one of those refined comedy playlets without any dull lines in it. It is well acted by capable people.

Miss Murray gives a pleasing portrayal of the prima donna. She has splendid support in William Kieck and E. H. Calvert and Miss Ames Kelly. The act was one of the big hits of the evening.

Paul La Croix, "The Mad Hatter," presents a new and interesting act that is appreciated.

The two Penns, novelty athletes, have an original ladder act that is popular.

The Kinodrome has some new motion pictures.

The Orpheum orchestra renders a number of highly pleasing selections. The bill runs the remainder of the week with Wednesday and Saturday matinees.

VESSEL TRIED TO ESCAPE.

Port Townsend, Wash., Aug. 29.—Charged with unlawfully taking their vessel from the custody of a Federal marshal and attempting to get to sea, Captain Hugh J. Thompson, his wife and sister-in-law, together with five members of the crew of the schooner Vida, are under arrest here. Night by the revenue cutter Arctia, a sensational effort at treasure-seeking has been temporarily shattered.

Thompson recently outfitted the Vida in Seattle for a cruise to a river in Peru that was proclaimed to abound in gold. A claim for labor of $200 brought the vessel and expedition into court, and a detention order was issued. The vessel escaped from custody yesterday morning. Capture was effected only after a sharp chase.

Full details for the construction of a mission settee are given in the August number of Popular Mechanics.

SPORTS

OGDEN SHUTS OUT THE SALT LAKERS

Ogden put a ring on its Saturday performance yesterday afternoon at the Fair grounds, when it again shut out the Salt Lake team by a score of 6 to 0. While the score duplicates that of the contest at Salt Lake, it was not an exact ditto, as the Donavants put up a better brand of ball here than on their home grounds. Salt Lake's defeat was due largely to an utter inability to connect with the tosses of Toner, the visitors securing but two clean hits during the exhibition.

Glimin had a new acquisition at the receiving end of the battery—an ex-Salt Laker by the name of Good. While there is nothing in a name, yet Good made good. He is of rotund architecture, but his breadth does not interfere with his activity. He caught his first game with the Lobsters Saturday and will probably finish the season with the team. Helme, the steam shoveler, who assisted Toner a week ago, is still in the game, but has been transferred to right field. Helme distinguished himself in the meadow by raking up one of Donavants' long drives and delivering it to the proper spot in the diamond to prevent a possible run. He also straightened out one of White's curlier for three bases.

Toner virtually broke up the game in the second, when he rapped out a two-sacker which welcomed home Bluth and Blake. Throughout the game there were few sensational plays, as the locals had things so well in hand from the start that Salt Lake remained helpless and hopeless to the end. The fielding of the visitors was good and the infield scored a double play, the ball going from second to first.

The indicator was held by Greenwell and there were no serious objections to any of his decisions. Following is the score by innings:

Ogden . . . 1 2 0 0 1 2 0 0—6 2 2

The Occidentals defeated the Murray team at Salt Lake yesterday by a score of 4 to 0. This gives the second place to the Occidentals instead of to Ogden.
